

I set a fire to the moon's shape
We are just shadows in the cascades of history
Fetted love and then your war games
A sky released
I set our bodies on my lungs' shore
This heavy whisper makes me more scared than anything
I was loved and now that love's lost
I know they'll never find us
Way out amongst the madness

I feel free in time
Fall depths with me miles apart
In light, we solve our whole lives
In time, you breach the brighter parts
Alight, we fall

You pry me thumping from this long drop
My twisted body in a bind that you want to break
This house is covered by your bloodsport
Don't give a fuck what's taken
I hear there's wars worth making

I just leave in time
Fall depths with me miles apart
In light, we solve our whole lives
In time, you breach the brighter parts
Alight, we fall

So lay down our lips
All our mumbles, they are fabled
Bind it all up, and cast it all out into the light
And I sense all your omens
You are young, you are able
We drop from the sky
And fill our lungs to feel alive

In time
Fall depths with me miles apart
In light, we solve our whole lives
In time, you breach the brighter parts
Alight, we fall

In time
Fall depths with me miles apart
In light, we solve our whole lives
In time, you breach the brighter parts
Alight, we fall
