Tethered Bones

Talos

I'm forested, I live alone
I'm islands in the sea
I'm tethered to your bones
I'm forested, I live alone
I'm islands in the sea

In the pouring rain, we did oscillate
As I fascinate the endlessness of our love
Baby in the pouring rain, we did oscillate
And I'll fascinate your skin for me on your love

I could be heartache, I could be tender
I could be a liar, I could be a saint
I could be the darkness picking at your window
Or the pale light keeping you awake

I could be heartache, I could be tender
I could be a liar, I could be a saint
I could be the darkness picking at your window
Or the pale light keeping you awake

I'm forested
With tethered bones
You're faceless when you sleep
Don't ever bare it all
I'm forested, I live alone
I'm islands in the sea

In the pouring rain, we did oscillate
As I fascinate my endlessness for our love
Baby in the pouring rain, we did oscillate
And I'll fascinate your skin for me on your love

In the pouring rain, we did oscillate
As I fascinate my endlessness for our love
Baby in the pouring rain, we did oscillate
As I fascinate your skin for me on your love

In the pouring rain, we did oscillate
As I fascinate my endlessness for our love
Baby in the pouring rain, we did oscillate
As I fascinate your skin for me on your love
