

The Flood

Talos

In the sky, your form and I met
We are older now, we are, we are older now
See our lungs dissipate in silence
We are older now, we are, we are older now

Oh the colours and I
Sent up wilding
Oh the colours and I
The warnings lies

Fall along in the depths of evil
I was born 'neath the kill of the afterglow
One and one became none by evening
This is all we know, this is, this is all we know

It all wasn't right, take what you need and call it
The scent of you dies, a thread of a dream absorbs it
The colours were lies, they fall at the heave of violence
Breaking the scene with silence, breach it and reach the wildness

Oh keep it on ice, it's just the warning tide
I was there when you were there in the morning light
This foolish love leaves a foolish sign
Was it warnings?

All the poplar trees
That you gave to me
Was death at my feet
Send up everything, send up everything

All the poplar trees
(It all wasn't right, take what you need and call it)
That you gave to me
(The scent of you dies, a thread of a dream absorbs it)
Was death at my feet
(The colours were lies, they fall at the heave of violence)
Send up everything, send up everything
(Breaking the scene with silence, breach it and reach the wildness)

All the poplar trees
(It all wasn't right, take what you need and call it)
Oh I'll miss you
(The scent of you dies, a thread of a dream absorbs it)
Was death at my feet
(The colours were lies, they fall at the heave of violence)
Send up everything, send up everything
(Breaking the scene with silence, breach it and reach the wildness)
