

All Things

Tamela Mann

All things, all things
He can do all things
All things, all things
He can do all things

If it seems impossible, trust God he can do it
Can't see your way, same God will bring you through it
He does all things, all things
Yes he does

At times your faith gets low, but you don't need much
He's a promise keeper, he comes through in the clutch
He can do all things, all things
God can do all things

All things, all things
All things, all things
All things, all things
All things, all things

Ask the blind man sitting on the side of the road
Or the woman with the issue of blood made whole
He can do all things
Yes, he can

Ask the single mother fighting just to make ends meet
Or the miracle you see when you're looking at me
He can do all things, all things

Rest assured
He will finish what he started in you
He's not done with me yet no not yet
Rest assured
He will finish what he started in you
He's not done with me yet no not yet
Rest assured
He will finish what he started in you
He's not done with me yet no not yet
Rest assured
He will finish what he started in you
He's not done with me yet no not yet

He will finish what he started in you
No matter what you're going through
Nothing's too hard for God to do

Rest assured
He will finish what he started in you
He's not done with me yet no not yet
Rest assured
He will finish what he started in you
He's not done with me yet no not yet

No matter what you're going through
Nothing's too hard for God to do
