

Dreamer

Tank

Why can't it wait until morning Why can't it wait until day All the love we have, slowly slips away As that I have left is sor row

I can hear the sounds of the windmills going round They're in m y mind, in my mind

You and I would ride the rainbow till the end of time I would c rossed a million miles to see you smile

Now I don't understand

Give me one good reason to not let go One good reason to stay O ne good reason to not let go One good reason not to turn away

Why can't it wait until morning I can hear the sounds of the wi ndmills going round They're in my head, I would crossed a milli on miles to see you smile

Now I don't understand

Give me one good reason to not let go One good reason to stay O ne good reason to not let go One good reason not to turn away..

.

Why can't it wait until morning Why can't it wait until day I s till hear the sounds of the windmills going round They're in my mind

You and I would ride the rainbow til the end of time