

Beautiful Lies

Tanner Usrey

I'd steal the moon from the stars
Just to get to where you are
But it seems these days you're so damn far away
And I know everything has changed
Nothing's supposed to stay the same
But you've become a ghost in this place

So talk to me, tell me what I need to hear
Wrap me up with your beautiful lies
And I know you're leavin', yeah you're standing at that door
And I can see the heartbreak in your eyes
So keep on telling me those beautiful lies

You're the muse to my song
I should've known it all along
That forever was a promise you couldn't keep
My first mistake was believing that you would stay
When I know every good damn thing it fades

So talk to me, tell me what I need to hear
Wrap me up with your beautiful lies
And I know you're leavin', yeah you're standing at that door
And I can see the heartbreak in your eyes
So keep on telling me those beautiful lies

No, I won't beg you to stay
No, not that you would anyway

But talk to me, tell me what I need to hear
Wrap me up with those beautiful lies
And I know you're leavin', yeah you're walking out that door
And I can see the heartbreak in your eyes
So keep on tellin' me those
Keep on tellin' me those
Keep on telling me those beautiful lies

I'd steal the moon from the stars
Just to get to where you are
But it seems these days you're so damn far away
