

Make You Weep

Tanner Usrey

Room spinning in circles darling
And I can't seem to find my keys
And I know I shouldn't be here
But I know it ain't a bright idea to leave

With your clothes there on the sofa
And my glasses on the counter
With a smoke so thick that we can barely see
But somehow that's the way you like it
So you can't see the pain that you're causing me

Does it make you weep
Does it shake you to your core
Is it in your bones
But you don't need me anymore
And I should probably just be happy that you're here
But I meant it when I said that I rather die alone
And it's killing me just how easily you moved on

I should probably say I'm sorry
But that won't change the fact that you saw me
With that girl across town
Well it wasn't what it looks like babe
You know I ain't the man to run around

Baby do your eyes deceive you
Or am I gonna leave you when it all starts crashing down
When it all starts crashing down
Wear your heartache on your sleeve
And in your mind you want to scream
But when you're here you don't make a sound
No you never make a sound

Does it make you weep
Does it shake you to your core
Is it in your bones
But you don't need me anymore
And I should probably just be happy that you're here
But I meant it when I said that I rather die alone
And it's killing me just how easily you moved on
