

Again

Tantric

Don't you dispose of me so easily now
Expect recovery so instantly somehow
I've found my way
Well you'll never really know what I have wanted
I've learned it the hard way, no hating, no flaunting
In the end I've despised everything I've realized
Never had to compromise; the shifty eyes that I've seen in you

[Chorus:]

Well here we go again
I should've know better than to let you in again, again

Unconditional love isn't in the cards
How could you take something so simple and make it hard Didn't you ever stop to think that I know better than you ever knew before
Other people call you chickenhead but I'm the only one who mayb e call you who you are...

[Chorus]

Well I can't find no peace of mind in this Would live my life following my regrets I had I'm given you, I've shown you all I am
It's time for you to want to understand

[Chorus]
