

Sleepless

Tarot

Tonight the wind comes from afar with a distant call Scent of valleys and fields in early fall There's ache in my heart a mystery deep within the bones
She lays beside me asleep
She sometimes softly moans

Everything I do, every word I say they're solid by the light of day
The night fills with dreams
I wish them real
There is no deeper way to feel Oh, to feel

Does she understand if I'm distant and feeling lost Hiding inside one's self is not dishonest
My fingers are not crossed sometimes I don't feel as good or strong as I would like to be I'd bring peace to her heart if I could find some also for me

Everything I do, every word I say
they're solid by the light of day
The night fills with dreams
I wish them real
There is no deeper way to feel

Ooh...

Tonight the wind comes from afar
