

When You Leave

Tash

When you leave, I'm like a ride
Head spinning out of orbit too late to find it
When you go I get reminded
How much it sucks to not be right beside ya

Something along the lines of what we're too scared to say
Somewhere between goodbye and boy I would love to stay

Boy I would love to stay

When you leave I gotta wind down
Feeling the things I do for you tires me out
When you go I start to lose count of the hours
I'm thinking about you when you're not around

Something along the lines of what we're too scared to say
Somewhere between goodbye and boy I would love to stay

Boy I would love to stay

When you leave I'm like a ride
Head so full of noise but the room is quiet
When you leave I can't deny it
How much it sucks to not be right beside ya

Oh, something along the lines of what we're too scared to say
Somewhere between goodbye and boy I would love to stay

Boy I would love to stay

Stay
Love to, stay
