

Daily Bread

Tasha Cobbs

Father, we thank You for being the God of lights every day

I'm trusting You today
That there's more for tomorrow
I can't live off what is old
Won't live off what is borrowed

I know You will be my daily bread

You're my daily bread

Jireh, Jireh
I know You will be my daily bread

I know You will
I know You will

Oh. I

I heard You speak back then
Your word has not fallen
And Your word has not fallen
So, I'll listen again
So, I'll listen again
And I hold onto Your promise
And hold onto Your promise
Your promise
Your promise
That You will be my daily bread

You're always providing
Oh. Yes. You are

So, we call Your name
Jireh
Yes. We call Your name
Jireh
I know You will be my daily bread

Jireh
Yes. We call Your name
Jireh
You will be my daily bread

Day after day
Time after time
Over and over
You've been new wine

Day after day
Time after time
Over and over
You've been new wine

Day after day
Time after time
Over and over

You've been new wine

Day after day
Every single day
Time after time
Over and over
You've been new wine

Day after day
Time after time
Over and over
You've been new wine

Day after day
Time after time
Over and over
You've been new wine

Day after day
New one
Time after time
I've never seen
Over and over
You've been new wine

Day after day
Time after time
Over and over
You've been new wine

Day after day
Time after time
Over and over
You've been new wine

I've seen You do it
Over and over
I've seen You do it
Over and over

Over and over
Over and over
You keep making a way
Over and over
You keep making a way
Over and over
You keep making a way
Over and over
You keep making a way

Day after day
Time after time
Over and over
You've been new wine

Morning by morning
You've been new wine
You've been new wine
You've been new wine
You've been new wine

Jireh
Jehovah

Jireh

I know You will be my daily bread

Jireh

You've always been

Jireh

You will be my daily

You will be my daily

You will be my daily

My daily bread
