

Hello

Tasmin Archer

If you ever tell me we're through
So it goes I'll get somebody new
If you call me with terrible news
Give me it straight
There's no need to behave like I'll crumble
My will is strong
I'll carry on

Hello
Welcome to your place
This is the human race
Always chasing
Never letting up
Hello
Welcome to your place
This is the human race
So frustrating
Never get enough

In the morning at quarter to three
Wide awake I'm worried for the trees
And the weather cares nothing for me
Here in the eye of the storm I'll survive
When the thunder and lightning's gone
I'll carry on

Hello
Welcome to your place
This is the human race
Overtaking everything in sight
Hello
Welcome to your place
This is the human race
Celebrating late into the night

When the ice clouds roll over the day
Let me dream it didn't end this way
I would rather be lucky than brave
Give me control
Let me follow my nose out of trouble
And if I'm wrong I'll carry on

Hello
Welcome to your place
This is the human race
Complicating all our simple charms
Hello
Welcome to your place
This is the human race
Born here naked reaching for the stars
