Tate McRae

Hey
Guess we haven't talked in awhile
Maybe you've been missing my smile
But lately that's been harder to do
I see that you've been talking with her
Why?
Bet you don't even remember
Guess that's what happens with you
All my friends, they warned me you were no good
But I didn't believe that you would...

Be the player that plays with the games in our heads
The faker that makes you do things you'll regret
The player, player
The player, player
The person that leads you to think that they're real
Leading you on to control how you feel
To break her, break her
Like the player you are

Did you actually think that I'd care enough
To spend all my hours thinking of us?
Oh boy, you've got it all wrong
Just wanted to let you know
I'm fed up with all the 3am talks
Cause they dragged on for way too long
All my friends, they warned me you were no good
But I didn't believe that you would...

Be the player that plays with the games in our heads
The faker that makes you do things you'll regret
The player, player
The player, woah
The person that leads you to think that they're real
Leading you on to control how you feel
To break her, break her
