

Facing a Miracle

Taylor Dayne

Ooooh
Hey
Ooooh
Oh, Oh Oh
The dream life shatters
You think you've reach the end
The world seems hostile, tonight
If only you could find
A helping hand
To pull you from the brink
When the chips are down
Your hearts on the line
When you're tired of losing
And friends are hard to find
When the stakes are high
And your spirit's low
You sink in oblivion
You'll be amazed
You're Facing a miracle
The hope is waiting
Around each corner now
If you are open
To love
And everything will fall in place some how
To pull you from the brink
When the chips are down
Your hearts on the line
When you're tired of losing
And friends are hard to find
When the stakes are high
And your spirit's low
You sink in oblivion
You'll be amazed
You're Facing a miracle
Oh
Facing a Miracle
When the chips are down
Your hearts on the line
When you're tired of losing
And friends are hard to find
When the stakes are high
And your spirit's low
You sink in oblivion
When the chips are down
Your hearts on the line
And your spirit's low
You sink in oblivion
You'll be amazed
