

Twas The Night Before Christmas

Tech N9ne

Calling all T fans, everyone gather round
So you all won't miss this wonderful gift
Is about to begin right now

Twas the night before Christmas and all seemed just fine
You thought I was Santa Claus but surprise Tech N9ne
And it ain't no sheep in here 'cause we're wolves in chief's clothing
You won't know what hit you when that red and gold just keeps rolling
That I'll study hard, 'cause Andy Reid is coming to town
With the twinkle of the stats and that's enough to Kansas City Chiefs (First down)
The [?] is on, the maestro Mahomes he stays willing and willing Showing passes no looks, touchdown Chiefs, oh what a feeling
Don't forget the other side because defense wins
Every time that there's a sack an angel gets it's wings
The ghost of Christmas past (Yeah!) they're all here
Bell, [?], Nigerian Nightmare, spreading holiday fear (Come on let's go)
Jingle bells are (Loud!) but our decibels are unstoppable
When the red kingdom rocks red a solid night is impossible
Before stepping in the house, it's a few things you should know
Just some ground rules from Tech to help you enjoy the show (Let's get it)
First things first, there ain't no lead that we can't handle
Down twenty-four, but never no worries, just don't change the channel
Rule number two, you gotta know the clock is on our side
Just thirteen seconds but you better believe we won't be denied
(Here we go)
Last but not least
Chief's kingdom is one
So welcome one
Welcome all
KC, the fun has just begun
Tech N9ne!
