

Freedom

Teddy Hyde

I am a mountain, stuck exactly where I stand
Snow collecting on my head, my feet buried in the sand, I
Get climbed upon along my sides
I'm alone besides the lovebirds that are nesting in my eyes

Oh why, must I cave in?
I'm cravin' your love
Oh why, must I make this
So dangerous, my love

A mudslide when I cry, an earthquake when I sigh
I'm Jekyll, I'm Hyde, I'm never one mind

A revelation starts to form
I don't need freedom anymore
Don't need freedom anymore

I am a raincloud, in your fable I can't steer
I'm much higher than most angels care to fly this time of year

Oh dear, can you see me?
I see you from here
Oh miss, can you hear me?
I miss you, my dear

A snowstorm when I speak, a heatwave when I'm weak
I'm ravaged, I need disaster relief

A revelation starts to form
I don't need freedom anymore
Don't need freedom anymore
