Bright white, never seen these lights
I know what this is, so I'm thinkin', "It's been one hell of a life"
Ain't accomplish everything I wanted to, but I did alright
Wish I could hug the people that love me, could've did shit right
I see the white gates, will they let me in? Do I deserve it?
Another bright light get close to me, but it didn't burn me
It know what I'm thinkin', it said, "Why you don't think you worthy?
No matter your sins, God got unlimited love and mercy
You a part of that love no matter what you did, you one of his
Just think about it, no matter how bad, would you do that to your kids?
And your love and patience ain't nothin' like his, God forgives"
