Careful baby, care, care

Boy, you better be careful
These hoes
These hoes
These hoes
Can be a earful

Boy, you better be careful
These hoes
These hoes
These hoes
Can be a earful

You bet not break my heart
I said I was never gon' love again
Baby, don't call me my government
Do you want something from the convenience
I got a lover disguised as a friend
The problem is your trust the size of a mint
My problem is my heart the size of a man
Baby I see you got used to them lames
Backstreet she got used to them lanes
Backstage she got used to the fame
Backstabbed, got used to the pain

You bet not break my heart
I told you all of my insecurities
I told you I can be your security
I told you that middle part would be pretty
Baby don't judge me
I got you jewelry... see?

Boy, you better be careful
These hoes
These hoes
These hoes
Can be a earful

Boy, you better be careful
These hoes
These hoes
These hoes
Can be a earful

Careful baby, care, care
