

Goodbye

Tei Shi

Goodbye
You'll always be a friend of mine
We had some good times
And some bad times too
You were so predictable
In making me feel miserable
Thought I'd let you know
You're so boring

Also I'm sick of your shit
You've been officially noticed, I quit
Got my freedom
Also I'm making a hit
You better listen now sit down
Kick your feet up
I've got many miles to go
Guess I'll face it on my own
A better day, a better day, a better day

And when I first met you I really though I'd always love you
And now I write these words tonight so I can get rid of you
Grew tired looking at your face
In the end you know, people don't change at all
There you go always fucking up my day
It's getting old and I really don't care at all

I think you wasted
Something you won't get again
I think you wasted
Something you won't get again

And when I first met you I really though I'd always love you
And now I write these words tonight so I can get rid of you
Grew tired looking at your face
In the end you know, people don't change at all
There you go always fucking up my day
It's getting old and I really don't care at all

I think you wasted
Something you won't get again
I think you wasted
Something you won't get again
