

It's on Me

Teitur

I was laughing at you
I was calling you names
That's something you would never do
I wish that I was more like you

You never try to harm someone
You never really jumped the gun
It's on me

I was crying out loud
I was putting it on
That's something that I tend to do
When I forget to be like you

And I can easily understand
The joke has gotten out of hand
It's on me

Look into my eyes
I will pay the price
Time to get real
And fate must take the wheel

I was throwing my words
I was making it hurt
You were the receiving end
I didn't treat you like a friend

We both know, you're better off
You don't want to waste your love
On me
