Here come the happy families
Here come the happy families

Mummy looks so happy as she sits in her deck chair
Granny's getting nice and [?] she hasn't got a care
The children are so happy cos they've gone to the funfair
And daddy still remembers when he had green hair

Here come the happy families
Here come the happy families

Here come the happy families
Here come the happy families

They met at The Roxy when they were sweet 19
He thought she was a bit like [?]
He gave her his favourite safety pin and autographed her knee

And now they're a happy family

Here come the happy families
Here come the happy families

Here come the happy families
Here come the happy families

Mr and Mrs Strummer are having a party
To celebrate the birth of their baby
Everyone's invited so don't be late
Half past eight and have a spliff at eight

Here come the happy families
Here come the happy families
Mummy punk and daddy punk and baby punk
Here come the happy families
Here come the happy families
