

A Hero Reborn

Temperance

Staring at you, you're walking to the temple
Without even ever looking back
Viktor goes on, with his lonely journey
Feeling the same overwhelming void

My only friend is the soothing sound of the water
Flowing around me in gentle little streams
Where beautiful carps make their appearance
As if even they would want me to move on

Valiant and with no fear

Like a hero reborn from the ashes
Like a new world was torn from the shadows
I just need to be there, that's what matters
Is he Lucifer's son? I will fight for this world

Then something new quickly caught Viktor's attention
A little small doll, full of secret mysteries
Daruma has been abandoned long ago
With just one eye, drawn by someone we don't know

Valiant and with no fear

Like a hero reborn from the ashes
Like a new world was torn from the shadows
I just need to be there, that's what matters
Is he Lucifer's son? I will fight for this world

The wind seems to be chasing something
Blowing away all your nightmares
If I'm here, it's for a reason
Under the spell of the only faithful merciless truth

It is as if all the 8 winds
Are gathering to accomplish what fate wants for him
The young boy can't stand the burden
Under the spell of the only faithful merciless truth

Valiant and with no fear

Like a hero reborn from the ashes
Like a new world was torn from the shadows
I just need to be there, that's what matters
Is he Lucifer's son? I will fight for this world

Like a hero reborn
