

Amber & Fire

Temperance

It is not easy to stop and think
When there's a violent storm inside
And it can be hard not to give in Silence can make you bleed

Struggling against myself I face
All of the strength I hold inside
The time has come to let it go and not to worry

I need some time on my own

Hours pass so slowly alone in the dark
I can't find rest
I hope the night will come to an end (to an end)
But this moment's just for me

Finally I'm giving up
This strong and endless resistance to my self-acceptance
I will stop to overthink
And the pale smile on my face will not be a mask anymore

Struggling against myself I face
All of the strength I hold inside
The time has come to let it go and not to worry

Hours pass so slowly alone in the dark
I can't find rest
I hope the night will come to an end (to an end)
But this moment's just for me

Smile to kill uncertainty
See the bright side in everything

I need some time on my own

Hours pass so slowly alone in the dark
I can't find rest
I hope the night will come to an end (to an end)
But this moment's just for me
