

Fairy Tales For The Stars

Temperance

A fairy tale for the stars
A lullaby for better days to come
To give them hope, to feel their light
From below, from the depths of my heart

Longing for your magic shine
Cherishing your blinding life
I wanna be with you, I'm waiting for a sign to raise and hold you
Maybe you're just out of sight
Or maybe I am just not right
But I'll find a way, just a crazy way to fly and touch you
I might be a fool, but I'll find a way to share my love with you

A fairy tale for the stars
For they always give and they never ask
But today let me try
To make my voice reach their soul, let me try

Longing for your magic shine
Cherishing your blinding life
I wanna be with you, I'm waiting for a sign to raise and hold you
Maybe you're just out of sight
Or maybe I am just not right
But I'll find a way, just a crazy way to fly and touch you
I might be a fool, but I'll find a way to share my love with you

Please, listen to my voice:
May it be your force
Please, listen to these words:
May they reach you all

A fairy tale for the stars
All alone, way too far
But this time let me try
May my force find its way to give your life

Longing for your magic shine
Cherishing your blinding life
I wanna be with you, I'm waiting for a sign to raise and hold you
Maybe you're just out of sight
Or maybe I am just not right
But I'll find a way, just a crazy way to fly and touch you
I might be a fool, but I'll find a way to share my love with you
I will find my way, my own crazy way to fly and touch you
To share my love with you

A fairy tale for the stars
