

Get A Life

Temperance

So, you thought I wasn't worth enough

Look at me, look at me
Why are you turning your sad stare to the ground?
Worship me, worship me
Now get on your knees and just scream my name
Love me tender, love me sweet
Can't help loving me although I am so wicked
Adore me, adore me
Definitely enslaved to this evil allure

I'm watching you cry

Sweating, crying and gasping
On your hands and knees you implore
Horror and confusion
Making lose your self-control
You are feeling awkward
While I'm moving your thin strings
I have turned the tables
It's your time for suffering

Care for me, care for me
Give me your attention, I'll just throw it away
Caress me, caress me
Showing all the feelings you didn't show me before
Praise me, praise me
There is no one else that is dwelling your mind
Adore me, adore me
Definitely enslaved to this evil allure

Why you're languishing now?

Sweating, crying and gasping
On your hands and knees implore
Horror and confusion
Making lose your self-control
You are feeling awkward
While I'm moving your thin strings
I have turned the tables
It's your time for suffering

Why, you're looking for me now?
(Trying, crying and gasping)

Sweating, crying and gasping
On your hands and knees implore
Horror and confusion
Making lose your self-control
You are feeling awkward
While I am moving your thin strings
I have turned the tables
It's your time for suffering

Sweating, crying and gasping
On your hands and knees implore
Horror and confusion

Making lose your self-control
You are feeling awkward
While I am moving your thin strings
I have turned the tables

Blind, you've lost your chance, you're left behind
