

I The Loneliness

Temperance

I used to be another man
And my life seemed not unfair
I couldn't hear the hurricane breaking ground
It's getting dark over me
I got endless questions still
I'm searching for answers even you didn't know

You'll stop love from breathing if you quell the wind
Washing away all your fears
When you cease your crying cause you have no tears
You'll understand

Nothing but a reason
She doesn't really care
As in the rainy season
I tried to cover my tears
You can't stop the feelings deep inside
My heart was broken for you
I can't look into the camera:
You'd know what I have inside of me
Sometimes you wanna scream but no one is listening
I, the loneliness

I'm going crazy, I'm going mad
With broken bones, I feel so sad
You took the light inside of me, where am I now?
We start as strangers and go back
To being strangers senselessly
We are alone in this lonely, lonely world

You'll stop love from breathing if you quell the wind
Washing away all your fears
When you cease your crying cause you have no tears
You'll understand

Nothing but a reason
She doesn't really care
As in the rainy season
I tried to cover my tears
You can't stop the feelings deep inside
My heart was broken for you
I can't look into the camera:
You'd know what I have inside of me
Sometimes you wanna scream but no one is listening
I, the loneliness

Cause I was there to live the best days of my life
And I was there to fight, make any sacrifice
We closed our eyes and launched ourselves into the void
Underneath the ashes, something is gonna burn
I don't need your help to dream into the storm

Nothing but a reason
She doesn't really care
As in the rainy season
I tried to cover my tears
You can't stop the feelings deep inside

My heart was broken for you
I can't look into the camera:
You'd know what I have inside of me

Nothing but a reason
She doesn't really care
As in the rainy season
I tried to cover my tears
You can't stop the feelings deep inside
My heart was broken for you
I can't look into the camera:
You'd know what I have inside of me
You can't stop the feelings deep inside
I, the loneliness
