

In Search Of Gold

Temperance

My name is Viktor and I don't know
Where I am now, what's going on
I can only remember, passing by
I collected this

You are here for a reason, then
Anningan is looking for a way
To enter Hermitage and to get it back

Please can someone
Explain to me
What you are talking about?

There were years when our lives
Were full of memories
Anningan was still there
It's not easy to explain
But after Emia passed away
He tried to fill the void with pain
He blamed us all for her death
But it wasn't us

In search of the gold, they said
We found and we lost our way
Hermitage for us was the center of the world
Selected people can come in
Who have the gift to show some skill
But men are always looking for something more

Please can someone
Explain to me
What you are talking about?

There were years when our lives
Were full of memories
Anningan was still there
It's not easy to explain
But after Emia passed away
He tried to fill the void with pain
He blamed us all for her death
But it wasn't us

Our victory came at a high price
We lost many friends
I had to send the person I cared the most into exile
Now he is trying to come back and reclaim his place
He summoned people from other worlds
To help him with their powers. What's yours?

There were years when our lives
Were full of memories
Anningan was still there
It's not easy to explain

There were years when our lives
Were full of memories
Anningan was still there

It's not easy to explain

There were years when our lives
Were full of memories
Anningan was still there
It's not easy to explain

But after Emia passed away
He tried to fill the void with pain
He blamed us all for her death
