Lotus

Temperance

I'm fighting against this force
Trying to pull me down
My fears are coming back
They won't let me go

Sometimes I can feel the wind blowing cold
In my heart, on my face
Heading to my reckoning day

Seems like the void is taking over me, over me

Never again, I will say I don't care
The whole world is mine, nothing can stop my will
Never again I'll succumb to the past
My soul is now unleashed

And maybe one day I will laugh of this state of mind

I have no ears and I have no eyes
I have no color, no fear and no doubt
In the cage of my mind, I was lurking and growing
But now I have my voice to scream my revenge

It's time for a change
It's time for a change

Never again, I will say I don't care
The whole world is mine, nothing can stop my will
Never again I'll succumb to the past
My soul is now unleashed

The wind blows no more
Nothing chains me now
In the cage that blinded me hiding all light
The stars shine no more
I've no compass nor direction on my own

Never again, I will say I don't care

Never again, I will say I don't care
The whole world is mine, nothing can stop my will
Never again I'll succumb to the past
My soul is now unleashed
