

No Return

Temperance

A child wakes up in the night
In tears, fooled by his own mind
"I had a nightmare: thunder in the sky
"Go back to sleep and just don't be afraid

All around him there's a world
In red and gold
Where no concrete chokes the fields on which he's walking

All around him there's a world
In red and gold:
He's touched by the grace and charm of this place!

Off to the passage! Over the unknown!
A quest for the truth
With no return!
Off to the passage, over the unknown!
A quest for the truth
With no return!

Used to the chaos of his town
Now he feels thrown inside a new world
Where is mankind to rule the laws of time:
Not the machines that prevailed his old life...

All around him there's a world
In red and gold
Where no concrete chokes the fields on which he's walking

All around him there's a world
In red and gold:
He's touched by the grace and charm of this place!

Off to the passage! Over the unknown!
A quest for the truth
With no return!
Off to the passage, over the unknown!
A quest for the truth
With no return!

Daruma, the darkness
In veritas
Nel tempo
Persiste
L'oscurità
