

Paint The World

Temperance

Here's how the story began, how you tear down my walls
When that night just a couple of smiles gave me safety and love
Back to that day when my fears seemed to loosen their hold
When the light that you carried within turned my stones into go ld

I used to fight my battles on my own
You made me understand I'm not alone

Now let's fly away, far away from here
On our own we'll wash away our tears. You and me
With eyes wide open we'll find a way to learn
How to change what is wrong, so with trust we'll paint this wor ld

Home is the place where your shield can be finally laid down
Here at your side I just know I don't need it at all
You made me cross all the lines I had just in my mind
You made me chase all the goals that I couldn't define

I couldn't hide my colors anymore
You made a rainbow rise to never fall

Now let's fly away, far away from here
On our own we'll wash away our tears. You and me
With eyes wide open we'll find a way to learn
How to change what is wrong, so with trust we'll paint this wor
ld

You're the river of emotions I feel
You're the reason why I'm starting to breathe
Oh, just promise me, you'll never walk away
Just hold me close, let's reach the end of this tale

Now let's fly away, far away from here
On our own we'll wash away our tears. You and me
With eyes wide open we'll find a way to learn
How to change what is wrong, so with trust we'll paint this wor
