

Where We Belong

Temperance

I spoke to Anningan
He told me about the lies
He always tried to isolate this kingdom so far

Not the first time that he tries
He said the same to all the people of Hermitage?

He said I could be free
I could go back to my life
If I believe it's right I could just let it go

Do you truly trust his words?
You are just a fool!

Looking at the moon
Wishing to find strength: we must stay and fight!
Looking at the moon
Knowing there's no time: we must find the place
Where we belong
