

Meet Your Maker

Temples

Now we enter the recital
Run the credits over titles
Days are darker now
We're making our descent

Dancing closer to the fire
Water higher than the Nile
Seize the endless day
If only to repent

Awaken me back to the start
The days are now numbered too far
The future is here
It's written in fear from afar

You build me and tear me apart
The faith that will keep us in arms
The future is here
It's written in fear from afar

Meet your maker

Send a message if you can
Send a message if you can
Time is running low without an audience
Saints are turning out in style
Faith is staying in denial
Everyone is saved
Eternity remains

Awaken me back to the start
The days are now numbered too far
The future is here
It's written in fear from afar

Build me and tear me apart
The faith that will keep us in arms
The future is here
It's written in fear from afar

Meet your maker
