

Oval Stones

Temples

Swimming with your soul, there was no one in the way
Out of your control, was the destiny destined
Finding out the way with the light that's in your head
Every night you stay in a bed inside your brain

I don't wanna know of delight excess the sum
I've came back around just to make it feel alright
Can we go back right now forever?
Shall we go back right from the start?
Can we go back right now together?
Shall we go back right to the start?

Will a notion of regret fill up our lungs?
Will a rising up of people move alert?
There's a livening up in every walk of life today
There's a chalice of redemption in our eyes

Singing with your friends with adaption of the words
Every night we sway to the sound of mellow birds
Skimming over stones, over liquid in your head
Every night we play with the canvas of concept

Shall we go back there?
Can we go back there?
Shall we go back there?
Can we go back there?

Will a notion of regret fill up our lungs?
Will a rising up of people move alert?
There's a livening up in every walk of life today
There's a chalice of redemption in our eyes

Falling, tide rising you up
Falling, tide rising you up
Falling, tide rising you up
Falling, tide rising you up

Will a notion of regret fill up our lungs?
Will a rising up of people move alert?
There's a livening up in every walk of life today
There's a chalice of redemption in our eyes

Can we go back right now forever?
Shall we go back right from the start?
Can we go back right now together?
Shall we go back right to the start?
Can we go back right now forever?
Shall we go back right from the start?
Can we go back right now together?
Shall we go back right to the start?