

The Beam

Temples

Another year, another day
Another hour, another word
Another space, another mind
Another normal situation
In a place you've never been
Another scene you'll never find

There's no need to remember
There's nothing you need to know
Trying not to remember
You're watching the watcher below
Oh, it's easy

We resonate
Along to the sound of the beam
Take your attention away from a dream
Thinking your life away
In time

Another wind, another change
Another stranger in the street
Another beat, another rhyme
Well, have you ever made the link
To stop and think to clear the seconds
In the records of your mind?

Think not of the future
There's nowhere you have to go
Trying not to remember
You're watching the watcher below
Oh, it's easy

We resonate
Along to the sound of the beam
Take your attention away from a dream
Thinking your life away
In time

We resonate to the sound of the beam
We resonate to the sound of the beam
We resonate to the sound of the beam
(Another year, another day, another hour)
(Another word, another space, another mind)
We resonate to the sound of the beam
(Another normal situation)
(In a place you've never been)
(Another scene you'll never find)
Of the beam
