

Turn Me Up

Tems

I said, turn me up
You know I could be inside
But I just wanna take you for a ride

I said fall back
It's a big shot, it's a big shot, fall back
It's a rim shot, need a big stack, fall back
It's a big back, causing big shock, fall back
It's a head shot
A celebration
Liberation for the nation
Conversation but in moderation
Need some patience, need some patience

No peace for the generations
They have us living in hallucinations
No one to put us in the right direction
No one to give us all the right affections
Maybe I should love you
But I really don't want to
What you do with that depends on you
'Cause I'm only here to inform you

I said, turn me up
You know I could be inside
But I just wanna take you for a ride

Me I fit tell you to your face, face maximum grace, na
It's a time for revelation
You say you love me but you love with hesitation
You cannot win me on your lower vibration
You need some customization, I got authorization
Open your eyes, I'm a ten, not a nine, number one, not a two, not a three

Fine girl, no issue
I don't need to diss you
Whatever you're saying, I beg you continue
If you don't believe, then I really do not rate you
Bye-bye, I do not, I do not need you
How many wars, how many wars I did
How many come around dare to it like this
A baby girl wey dey chop the beat like this

I said, turn me up
You know I could be inside
But I just wanna take you for a ride

Turn me up
Back then when it wasn't looking fun
Back then when it wasn't looking good
No one never could ever steal my juice

I'll put you in my mouth and chew
Next time if you wanna chat to me
Trust, I'll show your destiny
Think twice if you wanna mess with me

I said, turn me up
You know I could be inside
But I just want to take you for a ride
