Further Now

Ten Second Epic

Broken, Beaten down if you could see these eyes.
It seems as if days go by, I get hard to find.
So hard to find (I'm walking blind).
Up and down and down and out the same old streets.

I've seen it all before and it spells defeat.
I thought that we were different,I thought it would be different.

I was much better than this before
Let's take it back to when I was yours.
I'm so lost without you, I'm wasting time without you,
I'm not the same without you here.
All that's gone seems further now.

I close my eyes and try to flip the switch in my head.
The one that let's me sleep but I'm stirring instead,
Awake instead (the waking dead).

I'm sick of feeling sorry for a life I despise
Or reflections from a mirror I don't recognize.
I thought that I was different, I thought it would be different.

I was much better than this before
Let's take it back to when I was yours.
I'm so lost without you, I'm wasting time without you,
I'm not the same without you here.
All that's gone seems further now.

I'm so lost without you,
I'm wasting time without you,
I'm not the same without you here.
All that's gone seems further now...

Time to make this count, It's way to late to start over now.
No way I'm looking back, Can't find my way if it's over now.

I'm so lost without you,
I'm not the same without you, I'm so lost without you.
I'm so lost without you,
I'm not the same without you, I'm so lost without you.

I'm so lost without you,
I'm wasting time without you,
I'm not the same without you here.
All that's gone seems further now...

I'm so lost without you,
I'm wasting time without you,
I'm not the same without you here.
All that's gone seems further now...
