

Windows

Ten Second Epic

Look at all those apartment windows glaring in the night
In all of those building rooms so many different lives,
and even more than stars that shine,
They light the sky, Light up the sky.

Don't you need someone?
Like I need somebody.
Don't you need someone?
I know you're lonely.

As all the lost lover's homes glow...
I wish just one...It was mine.

Don't you need someone?
Like I need somebody.
Don't you need someone?
I know you're lonely.

How can two souls live so separately.
Two hearts alone in such tragedy.

Vacant street signs point to where to find other strangers stuck in this state of mind.
All their feelings hidden (stuck behind) faces
Not windows (with glass that you can see inside)

Don't you need someone?
Like I need somebody.
Don't you need someone?
I know you're lonely.

How can two souls live so separately.
Two hearts alone in such tragedy.

If you only knew, that only you is good enough.
If you only knew, that only you is good enough.(Two hearts alone)
If you only knew, that only you is good enough.
If you only knew, that only you is good enough.(Two hearts alone)

Don't you need someone? (I need you, I need you tonight)
Don't you need someone? (I know that you'll hold me)
How can two souls live so separately.
Two hearts alone in such tragedy.

Don't you need someone?
Like I need somebody.
Don't you need someone?
I know you're lonely.