

Dancing, Alone

Ten Tonnes

Dancing, alone
To a record you gave me on loan
The moonlight, overthrown
A dream I thought I had has gone

Ah tell me, tell me, tell me when you're coming back
I made a mental note but then I lost track
Everybody thinks they know what's right for her
You're climbing the walls forever yeah

Oh go down to Club 85 on a Saturday night
Stand underneath the burning disco lights
Put myself in it, take myself out
Wait on the corner till the lights go out
Lonely nights, in a dream
My heart it bleeds
Onto the concrete
My heart it bleeds
Onto the concrete

Minding my own
Business that's what I was told
But the city's growing cold
The dark sky's sinking low

The shops all boarded up you can't afford the lease
The river's brown and dirty but it's all I see
I can't spend another second on my own
But it's all I seem to do man, I need to get out

Oh go down to Club 85 on a Saturday night
Stand underneath the burning disco lights
Put myself in it, stuck in the crowd
Wait on the corner till the lights go out
Lonely nights, in a dream
My heart it bleeds
Onto the concrete
My heart it bleeds
Onto the concrete

Lonely town, lonely town

Go down to Club 85 on a Saturday night
Lose yourself under the burning disco lights
Try to enjoy it, stuck in the crowd
Walk around the streets until the lights go out
Lonely nights, in a dream
My heart it bleeds
Onto the concrete
My heart it bleeds
Onto the concrete
