

I Never Saw it Coming

Ten Years After

All I ever wanted more than i could live things keep so easily everything is fit and now I wonder why I never saw it coming

Lay the cards on the table throw them like it was had so much faith in us, without you now I'm lost you left me wondering why
I never saw it coming

With eyes wide open
I can see what I wanted to see
two hearts, one frozen
I find it hard to breath
I wanted so much to believe

Talking on the telephone like everything is ok, tell me about your new friend how your laugh is gone great I see I'm doing fine but I'm really just pretending

Can't help of think you as I wish to her but in the cold cold light of day the truth is hard to bare I'm lefting wondering why
I never saw it coming

With eyes wide open
two hearts, one frozen

With eyes wide open
two hearts, one frozen
I wanted so much to believe
