

I Think it's Gonna Rain All Night

Ten Years After

Raindrops beating on my window pane
Lonesome whistle from that midnight train
Rolling headlong down a one way track
Shows no sign of ever coming back

I think it's gonna rain all night
I think it's gonna rain all night
I think it's gonna rain all night
I think it's gonna rain all night

I hear the thunder, see the lightning strike
Bright as daylight lighting up the sky
Count the seconds, storm is moving in Getting closer, there it goes again

I think it's gonna rain all night
I think it's gonna rain all night
I think it's gonna rain all night
I think it's gonna rain all night

Tried to call you but the lines are down
Sirens wailing all around this town
Got the feeling something just ain't right
Hound dog's howling, somewhere a baby cries

I think it's gonna rain all night
I think it's gonna rain all night
I think it's gonna rain all night
I think it's gonna rain all night
