

Long Time Running

Ten Years After

Well I just heard you're back in town
You sure have been around
You can't feed the flame
And not get burned

Don't think you'll ever learn
Now you're caught up on a line
Secrets you can't keep inside
You're out of time with nowhere left for you to hide

Long time running
Like a rolling stone
You're out there on your own
Trying to live your life alone

It's out there waiting
Gotta face another day
Can't keep running
Can't hide yourself away

You just can't walk back in
Hoping things will be alright
You know the rules
Stop asking questions
Take a look at your reflection

There's so many things
Been thrown away
So many good times gone to waste
You're out of time
There's nowhere left for you to hide

Long time running
Like a rolling stone
You're out there on your own
Trying to live your life alone

It's out there waiting
Gotta face another day
Can't keep running

Long time running
Like a rolling stone
You're out there on your own
Trying to live your life alone

It's out there waiting
Gotta face another day
Can't keep running

It's out there waiting, no escaping
It's out there waiting
