

Illuminati

Ten

Titans, Illuminati
Loyal legions endlessly crusade
Keepers of the faith
Shadowed but not departed
Centuries under our watchful gaze
Never far away

We are Nephilim, giants exist
Not just legend or shapes in the mist
Living proof, now there's truth in the myth
That one sweet apple was hard to resist
So come on

We will illuminate these times
To this oath we swear allegiance
Out of the darkness into light
We are Templars, we never break

We who descend from ancient lines
In a world which we are regent
We are the luciferian kind
We are Brotherhood of the snake

Ghost-like, spectre grey
Watching time and space
Changelings, altered states
Keep the balance straight
We transcend, embrace immortality
New gods light the way
We illuminate

Strength and belief, the bedrock
Of our fealty, heart and soul ablaze
'Till the end of days
Ignite the books of Enoch
New World Order, fallen angels came
For Nephilim remain

We are Nephilim, giants exist
Not just legend or shapes in the mist
Living proof, now there's truth in the myth
That one sweet apple was hard to resist
So come on

We will illuminate these times
To this oath we swear allegiance
