

It's Alive

Ten

Wide awake, just another lonely night
In a wired and restless state
Try to sleep but however hard I fight
Kick screaming or remonstrate
There are voices in my head
That whisper words of truth
It's materialising
Calling me back to you

My torn heart unfolds
Without you in the darkest night
The worn part is cold
The passion chills in my eyes
Just how many tears
Wasted years love can survive?
In my storm-calming soul
It's alive

Wide awake, just another lonely night
Needing natural Novocaine
Every sinuous fibre sensitized
This insomnia feels insane
If I dream, in every scene
I'm crawling back to you
And through eyes that were blind I
Watch as the love shines through

My torn heart unfolds
Without you in the darkest night
The worn part is cold
The passion chills in my eyes
Just how many tears
Wasted years love can survive?
In my storm-calming soul
It's alive

It's alive

Yeah, what to say

My torn heart unfolds
Without you in the darkest night
The worn part is cold
The passion chills in my eyes
Just how many tears
Wasted years love can survive?
In my storm-calming soul
It's alive

My torn heart unfolds
Without you in the darkest night
The worn part is cold
But I've stopped questioning why
For now it appears
Through the years love can survive
In my storm-calming soul
It's alive

It's alive
