

Come Down When You're Ready

TENDER

Come down when you're ready
When you're able to
We never talk about it
And we won't speak for weeks
You turn the other cheek
And that's on me

What are you going to blame it on this time?
Lose track of your mind
You're scared of the light
Hope the sun doesn't rise
'Cause the fear isn't fine

One night
I'll be over when the morning comes
We fucked around, we faked a real love
I'm scared to leave my perfect dream
One night
Lights were dim and then the air was close
We're breathing heavy but we're moving slow
Hope I never wake from my best mistake

Come close, let me see you
In the early light
It's not so complicated
I barely know your name
It's hard to hide the shame
But that's on you

What are you going to blame it on this time?
Lose track of your mind
You're scared of the light
Hope the sun doesn't rise
'Cause the fear isn't fine

One night
I'll be over when the morning comes
We fucked around, we faked a real love
I'm scared to leave my perfect dream
One night
Lights were dim and then the air was close
We're breathing heavy but we're moving slow
Hope I never wake from my best mistake
