

Slow Love

TENDER

Spend a little too much time together
Forgotten how to be all by ourselves
Could be worse, yeah, it could be better
Stay inside beyond all others

Help won't get me out of bed
Stop the voices in my head
Waste away with you instead alone, alone

The great inside and fortitude
Safely home alone with you
Wasting time but what a view you are

Nobody told me when you love someone for real
That your mind's on hold and your heart's behind the wheel

I'm so caught up with you
Slow love in solitude
Don't eat and we drink too much
Four walls and that one room love

We'll drift away again
You give me something to numb the pain
We don't talk and we keep the door shut
We're together just a little too much

I'll lay awake in the middle of the night thinking about home
Feel so alone though I'm with you

Not the same as I used to be
My friends all lost touch with me
And there's nobody to blame but myself

Nobody told me when you love someone for real
That your mind's on hold and your heart's behind the wheel

I'm so caught up with you
Slow love in solitude
Don't eat and we drink too much
Four walls and that one room love

We'll drift away again
You give me something to numb the pain
We don't talk and we keep the door shut
We're together just a little too much