Everybody Knows Everybody

Tenille Arts

There's a red dot between county lines
Past the 805 population sign
Blink you miss it
Here we call it home
It's got one stoplight and one church
And a whole lotta people living down to earth
Any barstool you pick
You won't be drinking alone

You can't breakup, makeup, or make out
Without everyone and their momma finding out
Growing up that sure got old
But now I just wanna go

Where everybody knows on a Friday
We meet up 9:00 to 1:00 at the same place
We sing throwbacks on the jukebox
Whole bar buzzing with small town talk
Everybody knows what your drink is
People walk in like they're famous
And we all know we ain't nobody
But we all feel like somebody
Where everybody knows, everybody knows everybody
Everybody knows everybody
Everybody knows, everybody knows everybody
Everybody knows everybody

You can't text an ex or have a wild night
Without ending up a local headline
Monday morning, you're gonna get some calls
Cause round here, those rumors fly
People kiss and tell, but it's all alright
Cause by the weekend, we won't care at all
We're gonna be

Where everybody knows on a Friday
We meet up 9:00 to 1:00 at the same place
We sing throwbacks on the jukebox
Whole bar buzzing with small town talk
Everybody knows what your drink is
People walk in like they're famous
And we all know we ain't nobody
But we all feel like somebody
Where everybody knows, everybody knows everybody
Everybody knows everybody
Everybody knows, everybody knows everybody
Everybody knows everybody

So if you wanna keep a little mystery
Shades on, hat down, lowkey
And coast right under that radar
You should roll right past this bar

Where everybody knows on a Friday
We meet up 9:00 to 1:00 at the same place
We sing throwbacks on the jukebox
Whole bar buzzing with small town talk

Everybody knows what your drink is
People walk in like they're famous
And we all know we ain't nobody
But we all feel like somebody
Where everybody knows, everybody knows everybody
Everybody knows everybody
Everybody knows, everybody knows everybody
Everybody knows everybody
