

Always Been You

Tenth Avenue North

Where can I go with all of my sadness?
Where can I hide away from the madness?
I run from You, but You remain true time after time
You've never failed to show me Your kindness

Everything that I adore
Everything I'm looking for
It's always
It's always been You

Everything I ever love
Leads me back to You because
It's always
It's always been You
It's always been You

And still I look to Your creation
And I forget to see Your reflection
That the people I love
All I dream of
Are gifts from You
Lord, You should have all my affection

Everything that I adore
Everything I'm looking for
It's always
It's always been You

Everything I ever love
Leads me back to You because
It's always
It's always been You
It's always been You

And by Your hands
And from Your heart
For Your glory from the start
This was always all for You

In love You called you spoke my name
To know Your voice
To touch Your face
I was always made for You
so nothing else will do

Everything that I adore
Everything I'm looking for
It's always
It's always been You

Everything I ever love
Leads me back to You because
It's always
It's always been You
It's always been You
It's always been You
It's always been You
