

Once You Love Someone

Tep No

We've been talking, you and me
Speaking softly in my dreams
Felt things I pushed underneath
Only see you in my sleep

I've been getting good at moving on
Parts of you still here after you're gone
I've been learning till they flip the lights
But once you love someone

You never really stop
You never really
You never really stop
You never really
Once you love someone
You never really stop
You never really stop
You never really
Once you love someone

Woke up with you in my head
You'll go when I leave my bed
So I'll stay right here instead
Just for a few more seconds

I've been getting good at moving on
Parts of you still here after you're gone
I've been learning till they flip the lights
But once you love someone

You never really stop
You never really
You never really stop
You never really
Once you love someone
You never really stop
You never really
You never really stop
You never really
Once you love someone
You never really stop
You never really stop
You never really
Once you love someone

I've been getting good at moving on
Parts of you still here after you're gone
I've been learning till they flip the lights
But once you love someone
You never really stop

[?] believe you're gone
I hear your voice saying I'm wrong
I close my eyes and there you are
'Cause once you love someone

You never really stop

You never really
You never really stop
You never really
Once you love someone
You never really stop

You never really stop
You never really stop
You never really stop
Once you love someone
