

What Shall I Do

Terence Trent D'Arby

If you leave my dream Will you turn out the light So my eyes wo n't see That my fantasy is escaping me for reality Shall I tell her That she's the spring Arriving on wings Shall I tell her T hat I hear our hearts Our whispering And the words I overhear A s you draw near

What shall I do? If you won't run away with me forever What sha ll I do ? What shall I do ? The only thing that time will chang e Is whether I can retrieve My heart if you leave

When I kissed your lips It's as if I've been hit By a melody Th ere have been no regrets Though I've placed all my bets On your memory Shall I tell her That she's the glow That my heaven kno ws Shall I tell her That she's the gleam That powers my dream A nd by the flame That floats between our eyes I realize

What shall I do ? If you won't run away with me forever What sh all I do ? What shall I do ? The only thing that time will chan ge Is whether I can be seen With you in my dream

As the sunset fades And with moonlight trades Tender harmonies Shall I tell her That I can see The woman she'll be Shall I tel l her That I'm now alive Instead of surviving 'Cause if I lay w ith her I stay with her

What shall I do ? If you won't run away with me forever What sh all I do ? What shall I do ? The only thing that time will chan ge Is whether I can retrieve My heart if you leave
