

Reasons For Seasons

Terrace Martin

It's big T-M the eyes
Now who is become but its mother son
Beside wonder before the guns and picked up the drums
That you in a different stood on your feet
I gave you advice they a new life to lead
And took my for week
When I was out my low its true was color start to show
Niggas I call friends and answer their phone in That's when quick ain't true
Be careful who celebrity
Then get it to that very instance since between me and them
I put a little distance nigga for this game and is still broke nigga

Sometimes people go as quick as they come
They say that is nothing new under the sun
Cause time reveals all our reasons
Things change in life just like seasons

Little Kendrick from the hood
I'll show you that my motto always been to give you love
I'm putting out good music in return to build a buzz
That's bigger than life itself or some bubble kush plug
Or some bubble cush won't you look at the mirror
I see a eyes that's why a
And if you do that's shit that's scarier
Accomplish the impossible what obstacles of my day
Oh no they come to critics but not from the magazines
I mean the blocks soon as the my favor
No try to break down my character like I ain't to touch
And it hurt my soul to hear a nigga that I know talking bad
Tryin' to play me like we had gunfights for many bites
In the clips with no

Sometimes people go as quick as they come
They say that is nothing new under the sun
Cause time reveals all our reasons
Things change in life just like seasons

So I was driving phone last night 110 free
And I look up and this is something
Love your friends and love your family
And I thought to myself why these words so
Love friends and family
I mean if involved other friends and why
It's kind like we all forgot the true definition of love to begin with
The one thing I so know I can be somebody else does to us
With all
So instead of sayin' that's my friend that's my family and it's love
Ima say this to y'all
So many worlds we say in vain
What are we the same
People never change
Truth won't be the same
